Building Goodwill and Better Friendships

Consider the reasons you became and continue to be a Rotarian. Many of you embraced the “Service above Self” motto and the work we are doing in Greenville and the world. Many became Rotarians to support the work of Rotary International in doing to eradicate Polio and support causes throughout the world. Some of you became Rotarians to keep in touch by enjoying the most engaging programs and speakers in town.

Finally, I imagine many of our current Rotarians are members to “build goodwill and better friendships.” Connections and deep relationships with each other are critical in the success of the club and in each of our personal growth journeys. This month we have three significant ways to create these connections.

Health and Happiness Hour. First of all, join us at Health and Happiness Hour on Monday, October 20 at 5:30 at Spice of India. The event gives us a chance to informally hang out with fellow Rotarians over a beverage and some food to build deeper relationships with each other.

Roper Mountain Holiday Lights. Our largest fundraiser is Roper Mountain Holiday Lights. Bringing joy to thousands of Upstate children, Holiday Lights raises money that is given to local charities and supports the work we do in the community. Additionally, some of my strongest Rotary friendships started and developed during a chilly evening on the mountain.

A couple newsletters ago, I threw out the “Three Time Challenge.” I challenge each Rotarian to participate at least three times this year. Help with set up, work an evening, and help break down the exhibits. Signing up is easy, at www.greenvillerotary.org.

Fall Fellowship Outing. Join us on Tuesday night, October 28 at 6:00 for the Annual Fall Fellowship Outing. Gathering at the Historic Certus Loft in the Historic Huguenot Mill at the Peace Center, the extravaganza features music provided by “Tonight’s Noise.” The Fall Outing is a signature event for the club and is another chance to build goodwill and better friendships. More great news... It’s free for Greenville Rotarians. Registration is required, so please sign up now.

It’s a great time to be a Rotarian. The Rotary Club of Greenville offers members vast options and opportunities to connect, learn, engage, and improve the world. Do not be afraid to share this gift with others. Is now the time for you to ask a friend to join us and share this excitement?

LIVE ENTERTAINMENT - TONIGHT'S NOISE
Tonight's Noise began their quest in 2012 as a hard working acoustic trio, specializing in super tight arrangements and flat out dastardly dynamics. Scouring the Southeast with their unique blend of original tunes and freshly presented classics, Tonight's Noise continues to build momentum as one of Upstate South Carolina's tightest and most surprising groups.

OUR PARTNERS • YOUR KIDS • REACHING POTENTIAL

GREENVILLE, SC - John Tripoli received national recognition for his outstanding service and volunteerism at the Center for Developmental Services (CDS). Tripoli was awarded the national Northwestern Mutual Community Service Award at a reception in his honor. Tripoli is the Managing Director of the Northwestern Mutual Greenville Office, and serves as chair of the Governance Committee on the CDS Board of Directors.

Greenville Chamber Receives Excellence in Workplace Diversity Award

September 24, 2014

GREENVILLE, SC – The Greenville Chamber received the South Carolina Excellence in Workplace Diversity Award at the South Carolina Chamber of Commerce's inaugural Palmetto Vision Awards Gala on September 18, 2014.

The award recognizes businesses' significant contributions to moving South Carolina forward in diversity initiatives. Several criteria are considered in choosing companies for the Excellence in Workplace Diversity Awards, including diversity initiatives, effectiveness and applicability/replicability.

"This is certainly an accomplishment to be proud of considering the wonderful organizations throughout South Carolina that share our passion and interest in seeing diversity and inclusion as an integral part of the workplace and community at large" says Nika White, Vice President of the Greenville Chamber's Diversity and Inclusion program.

TALK

Greenville

Members Stephanie Lewis and Elizabeth Lyons were recently chosen as two of the 25 Most Beautiful Women in the Upstate. There were over 300 nominations. Each year, Talk Magazine honors women who have made the community more beautiful simply by the way they choose to live their lives.

Leadership South Carolina, the state's oldest and most recognized leadership development program, announces the newest members living in the Upstate. Catherine Stoddard, one of the newest members of our club, joins the Class of 2015 and more than 1,350 Leadership South Carolina members who have participated in the nine month program addressing current and critical issues facing South Carolina.

Leadership South Carolina accepts approximately 50 participants a year who demonstrate commitment to their community and strive to reach a higher level of service to the Palmetto State.

Nominations for Officers and Directors in the Rotary Club of Greenville for 2015-16 are now open. According to Article 3 of the Bylaws of the Rotary Club of Greenville, at least one month prior to the Annual Meeting on December 9, 2014, we begin the process of electing leaders for 2015-2016. The President for 2015--2016 will be Don Koonce who is serving as President-Elect during 2014-2015. There is not President-Elect for 2015-2016 at this time. David Karr will continue to serve as Treasurer for one more year.

Nominations are being requested for the following positions of leadership:

President-Elect- The president-elect serves as a director and performs other duties as may be prescribed by the president or the board. The president-elect will attend all district meetings and other club meetings in preparation for the role of president. The president –elect will serve as president in 2016-2017. Guidelines for the position of president-elect are the same as for president. (Please review guidelines for nominees for president-elect in this bulletin).

Secretary- The secretary works closely with the club administrator in keeping records, reporting changes in attendance to the board, reviewing minutes, preparing the club directory, and performing other duties that pertain to the office of secretary. For succession planning, it is expected that the secretary would serve as president-elect the following year and as president after that if approved by the nominations committee. (Please review guidelines for president-elect on the reverse side).

Five Directors – Directors serve a term of two years on the Rotary Club of Greenville Board of Directors and provide leadership for the Rotary areas of service and committees of the club. (Please review guidelines for nominees for board members in this bulletin).
